"Reminder: Random Acts of Kindness Month is all about noticing needs. Help someone today without being asked.

- February 11 is the International Day of Women and Girls in Science. This day recognizes the important contributions women and girls have made in science, technology, engineering, math, and medicine. From studying space and medicine to designing technology and solving real-world problems, women scientists have helped change the world. Today is a reminder that curiosity, creativity, and problem-solving are skills everyone can develop, no matter who they are. Let's celebrate learning, innovation, and the idea that science is for everyone.
- Black History Month celebrates writers such as Maya Angelou and Langston Hughes, whose words helped people better understand history, identity, and hope.
- GIVE Club is excited to introduce its new drive, March 2-6, the great Clover Clean Out! In this drive, you can donate any clothes you aren't planning to wear or that do not fit you anymore, or books you no longer need. The clothes you donate will benefit a child in need and books will be used at our Gateway book swap. A raffle drawing will take place in the lunchroom, and to earn a raffle ticket, donate clothes or books!
- School Sports News Girls Basketball game results ... The 8th Grade Girls played outstanding in a 58 to 27 victory over Harbour Pointe. Every Gateway player scored in a true team effort. Highlights included 3 pointers by Olivia Blakely, Berkeley LeFauve and Jayla Flunder. The assist of the night went to Aditi K. who played all night with poise and confidence. ____ The 7th grade Girls gave a valiant effort but lost to Harbour Pointe by 3 points. - IReminder that it's Random Acts of Kindness Month. Think about one kind thing you did for yourself this week and carry that energy into next week.
- Black History Month highlights actors like Sidney Poitier, Denzel Washington, and Viola Davis, who broke barriers and told powerful stories on stage and screen.
- The final day of National School Counseling Week, we want to amplify the support systems outside of school you can lean on for encouragement and support – whether it's your family, close friends or trusted adults who are part of your community. These are people who can play a big role in your growth and success. They encourage you, help you through challenges and celebrate your wins. Talk to them about your goals, and ask for support when you need it. As Taylor Swift sings, "I had the time of my life fighting dragons with you." People who love us appreciate having the opportunity to tackle challenges with us. And remember, your school counselor is there for you too – because they know you can accomplish amazing things.
- Pride shirt will go on sale next week! Keep your eyes out for flyers with details or contact Mr. Chapman.
- Last night, the 8th grade girls opened up their season against archrival Heatherwood. It was an intense game with multiple lead changes until Heatherwood finally pulled away at the end. Isabella Calixto led all scorers with 28 points, while Ivory Ware also added 13 points in the valiant effort.
- Our 7th grade girls basketball team's game was also stressful, we were tied at half-time, 20 to 20. We came out the second half and scored another 20 points to steal the game from Heatherwood, with a final score of 40 to 29. Makenna Harston had 12 pts, Lizzy Mwambia with 10 pts, Jessica Effendie with 9 pts., Kaitlyn Stetich had 2- 3 pt shots for 6 and Avery Phillipson with 3 pts.
- Bell to Bell no Cell. What does this mean exactly? Well, my fellow Gateway Guardians, it means your cell phone needs to be powered off and in your backpack, all day while at school. It also means no using your digital watch for texting or data search. Pass it along.

And remember Guardians, courage isn't being fearless, it's trying anyway

- It's Random Acts of Kindness Month. Take a deep breath before reacting today—calm choices often lead to kind actions.
- This month we celebrate Black musicians such as Louie Armstrong, Aretha Franklin, and Beyoncé, whose music has influenced culture, history, and how people express themselves.
- School Counselors Amplify Student Success. Today's focus is how the school staff work together for all students. As Alicia Keys sings, "We are here for all of us." And that's the case for us here at Gateway. Helping students succeed is a team effort. Teachers, administrators and school counselors all work together to support you. We share ideas, solve problems and celebrate your achievements as a team. Respect and collaboration are at the heart of what we do — because when we work together, you win.
- Another HUGE shout out to all of the students who contributed to the Commons Art Wall project. Your unique and creative pieces make our Commons look amazing! If any EIGHTH graders still have a puzzle piece, please return it to Ms. Kris, Ms. Rachel or Ms. Olander during lunch today. We'll need it by today to include it in the Eighth-grade puzzle. Thank you!
